FOREWORD

“If we could only talk with each other things would be better.”

Frequently English-speaking corrections people must supervise and work with clients who speak only Spanish. Recognizing that the core of corrections rests on effective communication between staff and inmates, the National Institute of Corrections is pleased to sponsor this booklet for use in the corrections community.

NIC is cognizant of the fact that there are many different Spanish dialects and this booklet reflects but one. We appreciate its limitations in some parts of the United States.

NIC is indebted to Mr. Manny Silva, Correctional Counselor, and Mr. George Bird, Casemanager for the Bureau of Prisons at the Federal Correctional Institution, La Tuna, Texas, who perceived the need for such a handbook at their own institution and whose efforts may be responsible for more effective communication within many other institutions.
